
Repertoire

October 2014

LIVING LEGENDS

Brigham Young University

Contact: Performing Arts Management
(801) 422-3576
pampublicity@byu.edu

Seasons

SEASON OF PROMISE

North America: Eagle

The eagle, which flies the highest and nearest to our Creator, is sacred to natives of North America. Embodying strength, courage, and wisdom, the eagle shows us that we have the ability to develop the same qualities.

Ecuador: San Juanito

Echoing over the high windswept plains and grassy valleys, the music of the Andes breathes the essence of ancient civilizations.

Hawaii: Noho Ana Ke 'Ala Anuhe

This dance contrasts the violent, volcanic elements of creation with the beauty that eventually proceeds as life moves on.

Alaska: Yupik

Stories expressed through the hands of the dancers communicate fishing exploits and the building of friendships.

SEASON OF PLENTY

Guatemala: Winaq Ral Ixim

Through their devoted care of their crops and families, the people of corn show gratitude to Heart of Sky and Heart of Earth.

Samoa: Sasa, Lapa Lapa, Slap

Young Samoans demonstrate their energy and love for life in the rousing Sasa and Lapa Lapa and prove their skill and agility in the powerful slap dance.

Paraguay: Carreta Guy

The enchanting music of the Paraguayan harp enhances the elegance of this enthralling dance.

North America: Bow and Arrow

This dance depicts reverence for the bow and arrow's aid in providing sustenance and protection and also honors past warriors.

SEASON OF PROSPERITY

Tahiti: Ote'a Tavevo, Ote'a Hopu

From the "Pearl of the Sea," the rhythms of life are presented through the tamure and staccato beats of the toere drums.

Argentina: Chacarera

The Chacarera emphasizes the grace and beauty of the paisana (Argentina's cowgirl) and the strength and masculinity of the gaucho (Argentina's cowboy) with romance and energy.

North America: Fancy

The women's fancy dance shows the emergence of the butterfly and the beginning of a new direction in life. The men's fancy dance depicts the warriors' battlefield feats.

Bolivia: Caporales

In this display of skill and power, the caporal's whip represents his strength; the rattles on his boots, the sound of chains; and his elaborate costume, his pride and wealth.

SEASON OF WARNorth America: Warrior's Suite

The dances portray honor and respect for all Native American warriors.

New Zealand: Te Wa o Tumatauenga, He Korero Riri

With the dawn comes the voice of war, carried on the wind, and supplication to Tumatauenga, God of War, by both warrior and loved one. Preparations for battle are made, and through the haka and poi, the challenge is issued: "We will not back down but will gain victory."

Mexico: Aztec

Representing an Aztec ritual from southern Mexico, this dance honors the great white god Ce Acatl Topiltzin Quetzalcoatl.

SEASON OF REBIRTHHawaii: Manoalani

A spirit of love influences every aspect of Hawaiian life. Good things brought from other cultures are welcomed in the Spirit of Aloha.

North America: Jingle, Grass

To the Ojibwe Tribe in Minnesota, the jingle dress, first seen in a dream by the tribe's medicine man, is said to have special healing powers. The male Grass dancers imitate the tall, flowing sweet grass of the prairie, a symbol of the balance between man and nature.

Tonga: Laka Laka

Tongan grace and beauty reflect the purity and conviction of this devoted and faithful people.

México: La Negra

This dance captures the soul of Mexico with their intricate footwork, beautiful dresses, and energetic music.

North America: Hoop Dance

The hoop symbolizes eternity to many Native Americans. Dancers position the hoops to honor the creations of Mother Earth.

North America: Go My Son

A wise chief teaches that family and education are the keys to success and happiness.

FINALE