SYNTHESIS

BYU Synthesis combines swing, blues, jazz, Latin, and fusion styles into a feast of jazz entertainment. Some of Brigham Young University's finest and most versatile musicians perform, arrange, and compose for this award-winning ensemble. Synthesis has received enthusiastic responses from audiences throughout the world. In 2022, Wynton Marsalis invited Synthesis to perform as one of ten bands at the prestigious Jack Rudin Jazz Championship, where Synthesis was awarded best trombone section and best trumpet section and received outstanding soloist awards in each section of the ensemble.

TAP TO VISIT

BEN NICHOLS, DIRECTOR

Saxophonist and composer Dr. Ben Nichols has traveled across the globe, performing at large venues, intimate city concerts, and countless jazz festivals throughout North America, South America, and Europe. He is known internationally for his expressive sound and energetic artistic style.

Dr. Nichols is the founder and director of the Crossover Saxophone Quartet. He was a featured soloist with this group as they world premiered his original arrangement of "Just Friends" at the North American Saxophone Alliance Conference in 2020. Dr. Nichols is featured on three albums with the internationally acclaimed jazz ensemble BYU Synthesis. In 2013, he was a featured soloist on the band's album The Day After Yesterday. The album was submitted to DownBeat magazine, which went on to name Synthesis the nation's Top College Big Band.

Dr. Nichols enjoys teaching students at all levels. He believes that teaching should be engaging, challenging, and fun for the student and instructor.
