India: Nagada Nagada

Bollywood, the famed film industry based in Mumbai, India, is characterized by flashy musical numbers, love triangles, and melodrama. The dancing in Bollywood films is rooted in traditional Indian dance, including Bharata Natyam and Bhangra, fused with Western dance styles. Nagada Nagada is the story of a young man attempting to win the heart of a beautiful girl.

Choreography: Greg & Sally Rawlings

Music: Nagada, Nagada (Pritam Chakraborty), Recorded by Javed Ali & Sonu Nigam

INTERMISSION*Indonesia: Saman

This dance form originates from the Gayo people of Aceh Province in northern Sumatra. Traditionally performed for national or religious celebrations, these dances unify villages. The Saman dance tradition includes live singing by the performers, with lyrics that tell folktales to give counsel or offer spiritual enlightenment. Often referred to as the “dance of a thousand hands,” the dancers sit in a long line and produce shifting rhythms with their hands.

Choreography: Rustin Van Katwyk

Music: “Hai Jala” and “Hayla Hotsa,” traditional; performed by International Folk Dance Ensemble, with drums by Jake Goehring

Mexico: La Bruja

This is a traditional dance from the state of Veracruz. According to an ancient Mexican legend, “La Bruja” (“The Enchantress”) tells the story of a grieving mother who, with a candle atop her head to illuminate the way, searches for her lost children.

Choreography: Jeanette Geslison

Music: “La Bruja,” by Tlen Huicani; recorded by Tlen Huicani
