BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY presents

VOCAL POINT

MAXIMUM A CAPPELLA
Vocal Point originates in the College of Fine Arts and Communications’ School of Music at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

Vocal Point, Brigham Young University’s renowned nine-man a cappella group, combines harmony, humor, and remarkable vocal percussion into a thrilling showcase. Members are selected for their musical ability, creativity, and stage presence—the result is exceptional sound and original, spirited performances.

In 2011 Vocal Point was a top-five finalist on NBC’s hit show The Sing-Off, performing against a cappella groups from across the nation. That same year they competed in the International Championship of Collegiate A Cappella (ICCA) and placed first runner-up at the finals, a title that they won in 2006. In 2002 Vocal Point performed at nearly every major venue during the Salt Lake Winter Olympic Games. The ensemble regularly records albums through Tantara Records, their latest release in 2011 being Back in Blue.

That’s about the most professional group at the collegiate level anywhere. Seriously, that’s as close as anyone could ever get to being a rock star.

—Deke Sharon, founder of the Contemporary A Cappella Society (CASA)

Their performances had everything one should look for in a champion: technical and musical precision, choreography, humor, polish, style, and flair.

—Elie Landau, Recorded A Cappella Review Board (RARB) Reviewer

Vocal Point is an impressive, high-energy group that made our event soar. . . . You . . . represent Utah so well.

—Mrs. Jackie Leavitt, wife of former Utah governor Mike Leavitt
