SHAWN SMITH, CONDUCTOR

Dr. Shawn Smith serves as the director of the School of Music, the director of bands, and a professor of conducting at Brigham Young University. Prior to his appointment at BYU, he spent 16 years as director of bands at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and at Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi, where he received the Teaching Excellence Award twice. Smith holds a doctor of musical arts in instrumental conducting from Arizona State University, a master of music from Louisiana State University, and a bachelor of music in music education from Boise State University.

In high demand as a band and orchestra conductor, clinician, and adjudicator, Smith has been invited to conduct professional and educational ensembles throughout the United States, South America, Central America, and Europe, including concerts with world-renowned musicians and singers. Equally at home in the theater, Smith has conducted pit orchestras for The Marriage of Figaro and a six-week run of Les Misérables. His performances have been heard numerous times on American Public Media's Performance Today radio program. In 2015 Smith was awarded second place for the American Prize in Conducting, Professional Band Division.

Smith has published in the Journal of the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles and in Alta Musica, and he has presented his research at national and international conferences. Smith has also presented numerous educational clinics, workshops, and speeches, most notably at the Midwest Clinic International Band and Orchestra Conference in Chicago.

An accomplished trumpeter, Smith has performed with the Corpus Christi Symphony, the Boise Philharmonic, the Acadiana Symphony, Keith Brion's New Sousa Band, and the Temptations.

Smith holds memberships in the Utah Music Educators Association, the National Band Association, the College Band Directors National Association, and the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles.

BYU WIND SYMPHONY

The finest woodwind, brass, and percussion players at Brigham Young University perform with the Wind Symphony, under the direction of Dr. Shawn Smith. The BYU Wind Symphony maintains an active performance schedule with programming that ranges from classical to contemporary. By participating in commissioning consortiums and by hosting composers and guest conductors on campus, ensemble members gain wonderful musical experiences.

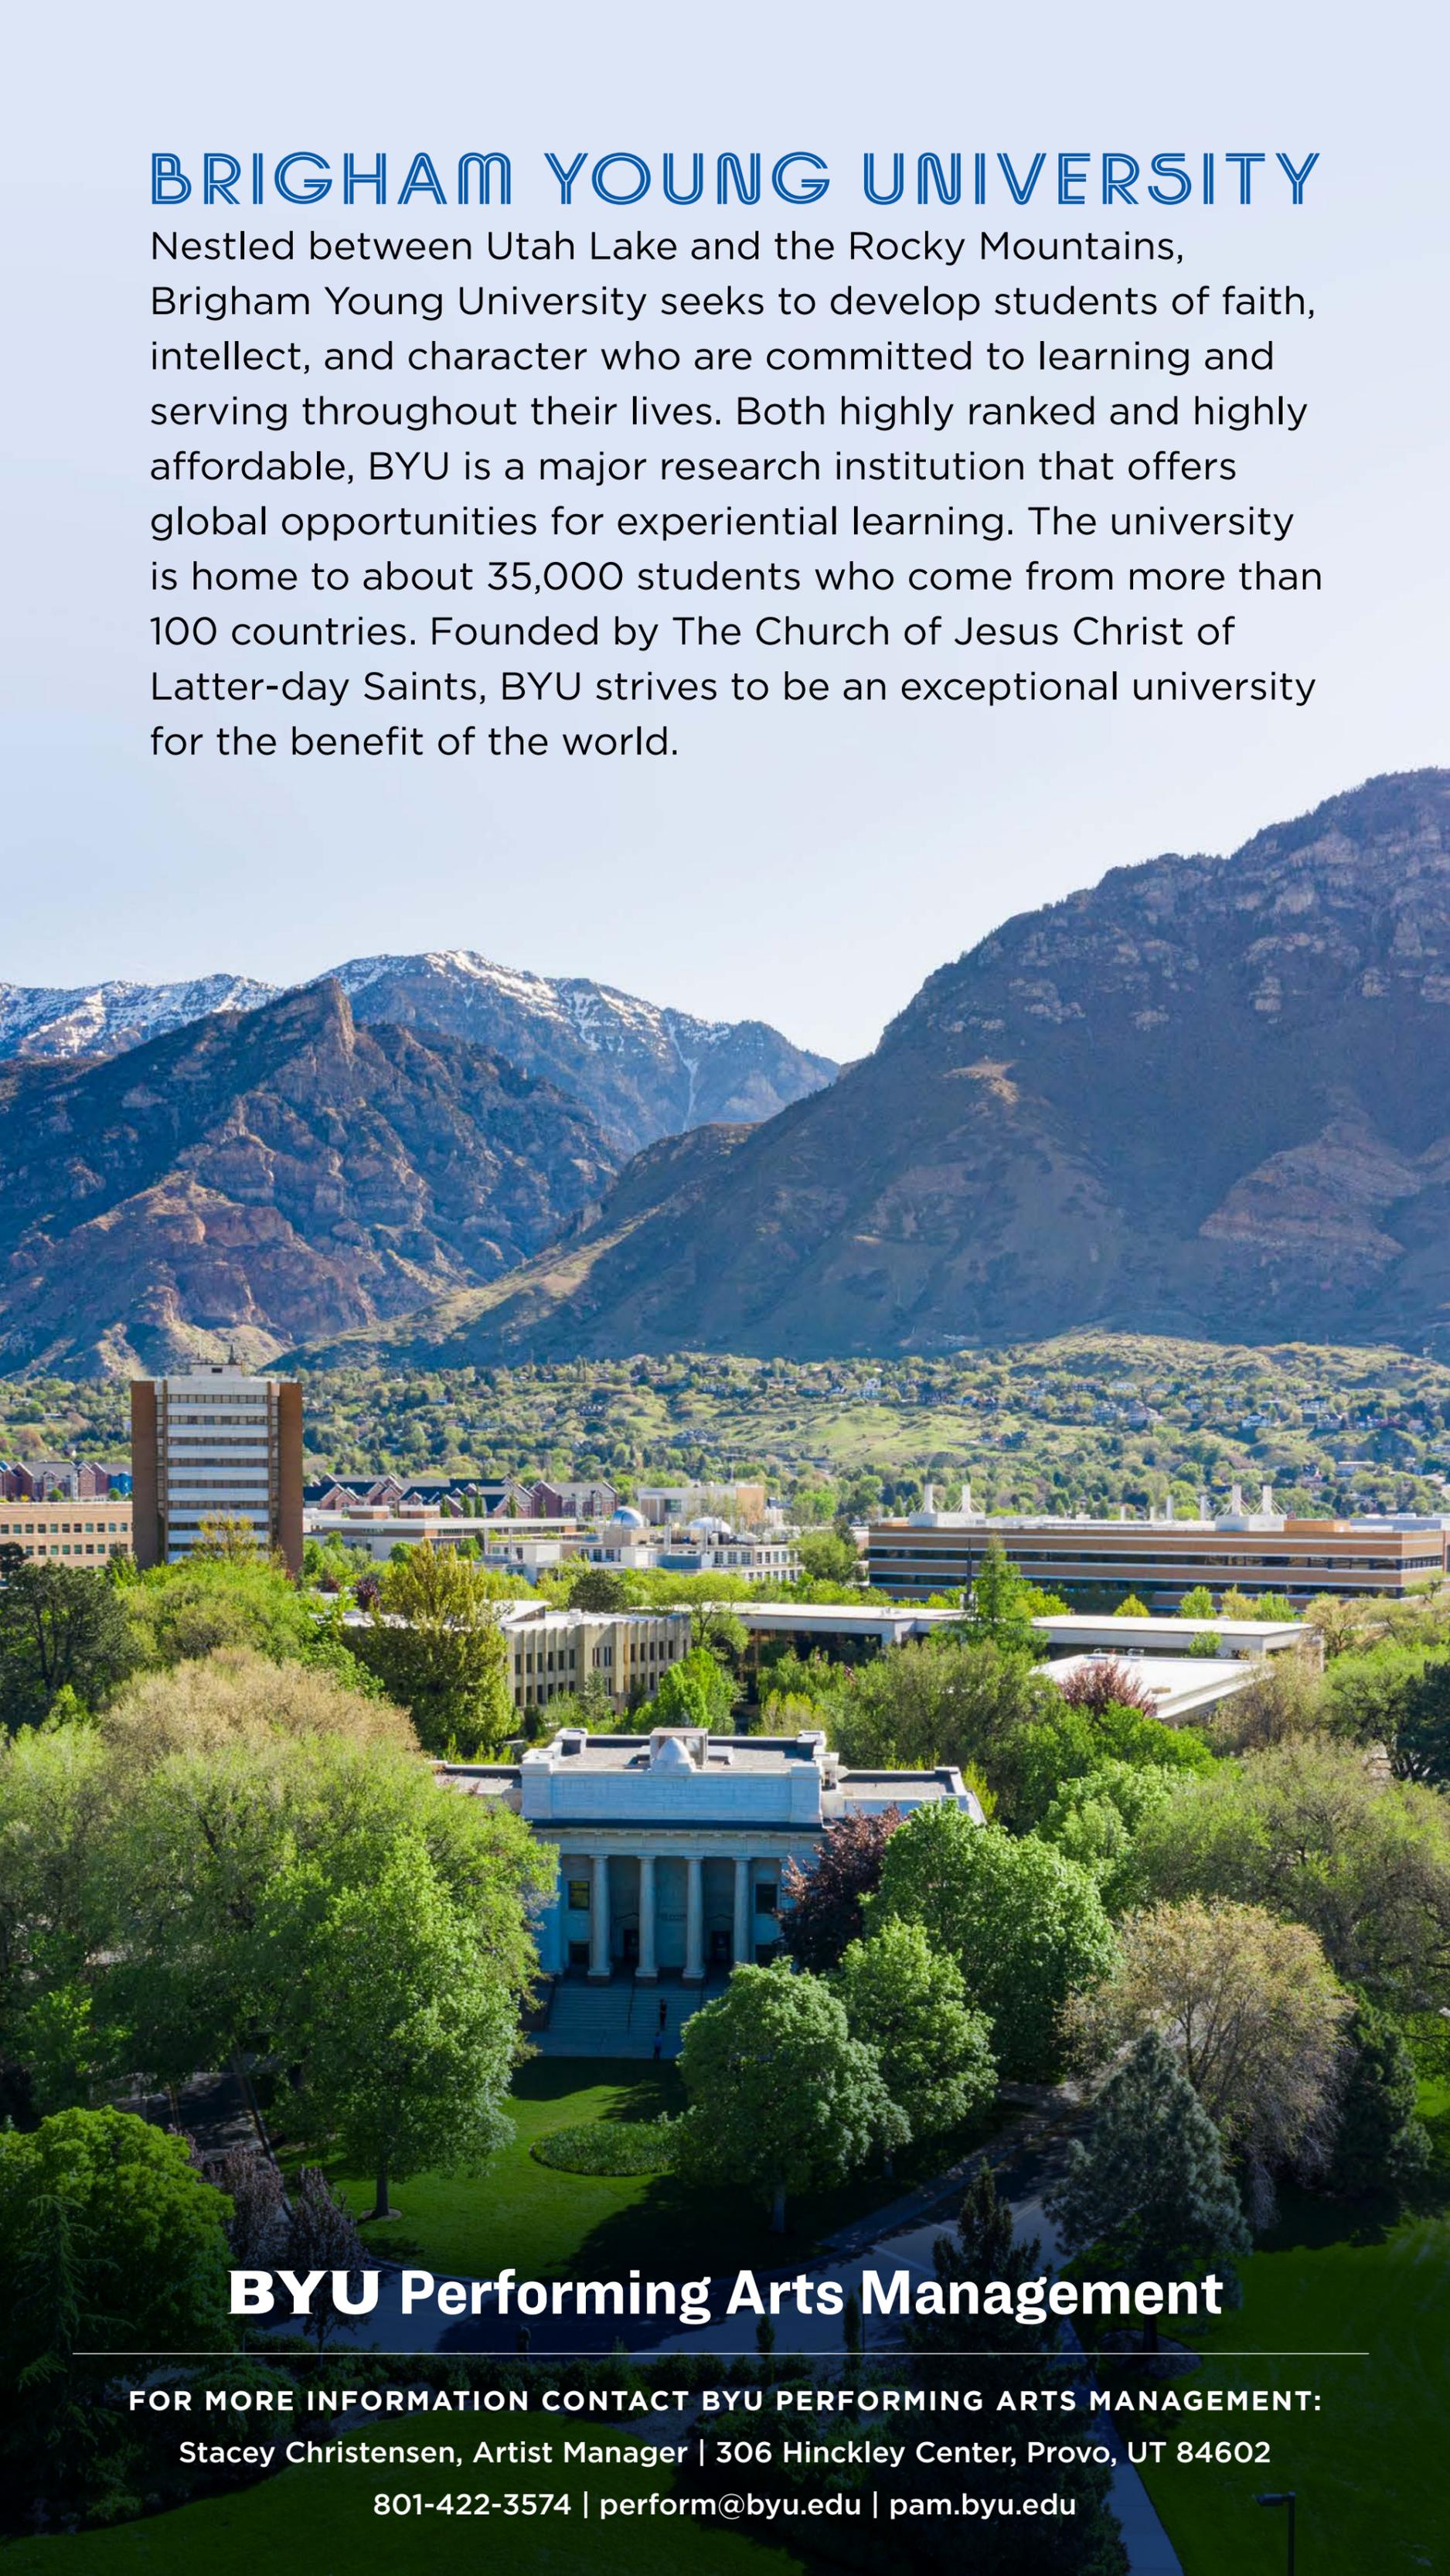

The BYU Wind Symphony has performed with world-renowned artists including New York Philharmonic principal trombonist Joseph Alessi, Grammy Award-winning chamber ensemble Eighth Blackbird, Tony-nominated Broadway and television star Derek Klena, and the popular vocal trio Genti. The ensemble has been honored with invitations to perform at conferences of the College Band Directors National Association, the American Bandmasters Association, and the World Association for Symphonic Bands and Ensembles.

As BYU's premier wind band, the ensemble has performed throughout the United States and in more than 20 countries, including China, Japan, Mongolia, New Zealand, and many European countries. Recent concert tour locations include Australia (May 2018), Texas (May 2019), Spain and Portugal (May 2023), and South Korea (July 2024). The ensemble looks forward to visiting Brazil in May 2026. Their latest album, Latin Dances, was released in 2024 and is available on all streaming services.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY

Nestled between Utah Lake and the Rocky Mountains, Brigham Young University seeks to develop students of faith, intellect, and character who are committed to learning and serving throughout their lives. Both highly ranked and highly affordable, BYU is a major research institution that offers global opportunities for experiential learning. The university is home to about 35,000 students who come from more than 100 countries. Founded by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, BYU strives to be an exceptional university for the benefit of the world.

An aerial photograph of the Brigham Young University campus. In the foreground, a large, white, classical-style building with four columns is surrounded by lush green trees. The middle ground shows various university buildings and green spaces. In the background, there are large, rugged mountains with patches of snow under a clear blue sky.
